PROFILE

I am a dedicated and creative professional with a passion for problem-solving. With my experience in customer service and administration, I learned exceptional organizational skills, valuable adaptability, and empathy. Proficient in HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript, and React.js, I am a forward-thinking talent eager to acquire new skills that will eventually translate into opportunities to contribute to an organization. Currently, I am seeking internship opportunities where I can apply my skills to contribute to the business and continue my personal and professional growth.
